Because the Peptide Information 3619 12 residues of T20 not included in C37 do not make contact with 5-Helix, the difference in binding energies is primarily linked to the 13 amino-acid segment found at the N-terminus of C The K D values were determined by fitting these data to a bimolecular equilibrium binding model solid lines. EpubDecThe PCR-amplified band was sequenced using the primers for amplification and the sequencing results confirmed the expected sequence Fig.
